2041 CAREER AND COMMUNITY APPLICATIONS OF PSYCHOLOGY I This is the first in a series of three one-semester-hour courses, spread over three years, in which psychology majors explore interactions between themselves, psychological theory and research, and their opportunities for education, career, and community engagement. Core concepts in developmental psychology, emerging adulthood, and identity are considered. Students investigate the relevance of their personal strengths, challenges, values, and goals for: success as a psychology major; effective preparation for possible post-degree education; employment opportunities following the Bachelor's degree; careers in related fields requiring further study; careers requiring graduate study in psychology; and, applying psychology to make a positive difference in their communities and the broader world. PREREQUISITE: Psychology 1010-1020 One hour a week NOTE: Equivalent of one class hour per week, normally clustered into longer, less frequent classes.	2041 CAREER AND COMMUNITY APPLICATIONS OF PSYCHOLOGY I This is the first in a series of three one-semester-hour courses, spread over three years, in which psychology majors explore interactions between themselves, psychological theory and research, and their opportunities for education, career, and community engagement. 2780 STATISTICS AND RESEARCH DESIGN I (offered in first semester) The first in a two-part series, this course considers paradigms of knowledge and research, introducing students to skills in interpreting and applying descriptive statistics and in basic quantitative and qualitative research design. Students learn how to find and evaluate reports of psychological research. Statistical concepts and applications addressed include frequency tables, graphs, measures of central tendency and variability, z scores, correlation, and probability. Students explore research methods of interviews, observation, and questionnaires. Ethical issues in research are introduced. Laboratory and field projects introduce students to SPSS and to research methodologies. 2790 STATISTICS AND RESEARCH DESIGN II (offered second semester) Building on Psychology 2780, this course further explores paradigms of knowledge and research, introducing students to skills in interpreting and applying inferential statistics and in research design. Students learn about framing research questions and developing hypotheses. Statistical concepts and applications include significance, confidence intervals, regression, t tests, analysis of variance, and chi square. Students consider research methods in quasi-experimental and experimental design. Approaches to collecting and analyzing data from qualitative designs are investigated. Students develop skills in written and oral presentation of research, and ethical issues are further explored. Laboratory and field projects further apply SPSS and various research methodologies. PSY-3010 Psych. Ancient to Modern World Students begin by considering the question "What is history?" and the issues of historiography. Special attention is paid to the early Greek philosophers and the foundational ideas of Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle. The emphasis on a 'soul' by early Christian writers is examined, and various philosophies of mind from the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries are discussed. Emphasis is placed on the social and political context in the construction of knowledge, and an appreciation of this context is fostered through the reading of original texts. Three hours a week Requisites: Psychology 1010-1020 and Psychology 2780-2790 or Psychology 2510 - Must be completed prior to taking this course.	PSY-3010 Psych. 2510 THINKING CRITICALLY ABOUT PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH Designed for non-Psychology majors, this course develops their abilities as consumers of psychological research. Students learn about paradigms of research and knowledge, consider key assumptions in both quantitative and qualitative research, and explore how quantitative and qualitative perspectives influence the construction of knowledge. Students apply critical thinking strategies within the context of psychological research and develop skills to evaluate claims made about psychological phenomena in the popular media and professional literature. Concepts explored include understanding and prediction, description and inference, biases in research conduct and communication, representativeness, evaluating testimonials, correlation and causation, multiple causation, operational definitions, placebo effects, experimental control, and probability. PREREQUISITES: Psychology 1010-1020. This course is not open to students who already have earned credit for Psychology 2780 or 2790, who are currently enrolled in Psychology 2780 or 2790 NOTE: This course cannot be counted as one of the 14 courses required to earn a major in Psychology.	2510 THINKING CRITICALLY ABOUT PSYCHOLOGICAL RESEARCH Designed for For non-Psychology majors only. This This course develops their students' abilities as consumers of psychological research. PREREQUISITE: Psychology 1010-1020, 2780-2790 and permission of instructor Three hours a week Directed Readings is a course of supervised readings for individual students on advanced or specialized topics. Selected topics in the student's area of interest are submitted to and discussed with a faculty member. Reading will involve critical evaluation of the literature. Students will be evaluated on the basis of either oral or written performance. Directed Research provides an opportunity for students, with the help of a faculty supervisor, to design and carry out research in Psychology. Students will be expected to write up their study according to the accepted format for publication. This course is recommended for students who intend to do post-graduate work in Psychology. NOTE: Students should meet with a professor in the Psychology Department well in advance of registration to discuss the nature, design and content of the course. No one will be allowed to register for the course unless he/she has made arrangements with a professor in the Department. Rationale for Change: This will give students greater flexibility in navigating the requirements for a Political Science major. POLS 2620 is a required course for the major but having POLS 2010 as a prereq means that that course is a de facto requirement as well. Over the years, many students have been allowed to take POLS 2620 without having completed POLS 2010 and we have not noticed any problems. Faculty/School/Department: Science

Department/Program(s)/Academic Regulations: Applied Human Sciences/ Kinesiology

MOTION: To change the prerequisites for KINE 2510 Anatomical Kinesiology as proposed.

2510 ANATOMICAL KINESIOLOGY This course introduces kinesiology students to the science of human movement with special consideration given to skeletal, muscular and neural contributions. Topics include: anatomical directional terminology; basic biomechanical factors and concepts; muscular analysis of trunk, upper/lower extremities with reference to sport performance/technique/training; and neuromuscular fundamentals. PREREQUISITE: Biology 1220 and admission to BSc Kinesiology program Three lecture hours	2510 ANATOMICAL KINESIOLOGY This course introduces kinesiology students to the science of human movement with special consideration given to skeletal, muscular and neural contributions. ---	--

Rationale for Change: We recently identified a gap in the prerequisites for KINE 2510 (Anatomical Kinesiology). The information in BIO 1210 (Human Anatomy) is vital for KINE 2510, and students would generally take BIO 1210 in fall year 1, BIO 1220 in winter year 1, and KINE 2510 in fall year 2. However, we are now noticing that students can take BIO 1310 as a prerequisite for BIO 1220 and skip the information in BIO 1210 prior to taking KINE 2510. Changing the prerequisite from BIO 1220 to BIO 1210 will fill this gap and ensure students have the appropriate prior knowledge to be successful in KINE 2510.

MOTION: To change the prerequisites for KINE 2620 Instruction to the Sociology of Sport and Exercise as proposed.

2620 INTRODUCTION TO THE SOCIOLOGY OF SPORT AND EXERCISE This course will explore the significance of sport across society and culture. ---	---

Rationale for Change: With the movement-related aspects of KINE 2620, having a prerequisite of only SOC 1010 is insufficient to prepare students for success. This prerequisite will be removed and only Kinesiology students will be allowed to register for the course. The cross listing with SOC 2210 has been removed in order to save registration space for kinesiology students.

Implications for Other Programs: The removal of the cross listing does affect the Sociology Department, but I have received approval from Dr. Charles Adeyanju, Chair of Sociology, to remove the cross listing as minimal sociology students choose to take the class.

Motion # 32

Faculty/School: Science

Department/Program(s): Master of Applied Health Services Research (MAHSR)

MOTION: That a new course entitled “AHS 6012 Big Data Research and Analytics in Health Care” be approved as proposed.

Course Number and Title	AHS 6012 BIG DATA RESEARCH AND ANALYTICS IN HEALTH CARE
Description	Upon completion of this course students will have foundational knowledge on what is meant by ‘big data’ and how it can be used to advance research and clinical practice in health care. Students will be introduced to a variety of research methods using big data and will explore potential future uses of big data for health system improvement.
Cross-Listing	None
Prerequisite/Co-Requisite	AHS 6009 or permission of instructor
Credit(s)	3
Notation

This is: An Elective Course

Grade Mode: Numeric (Standard)

Anticipated Enrolment: 15

Is there an Enrolment Cap: No

If there is an enrolment limit, please explain.

Rationale for New Course: There is a broad and growing trend towards using the best available evidence to inform decision making in most facets of life. Businesses are increasingly using large volumes of data from customers, clients and suppliers to inform business-critical decisions. The nature of the health care system, particularly in Canada, requires the collection and storage of a great deal of data and the appropriate use of this data can be a valuable tool to generate research and provide evidence in decision making. Understanding how to approach these kinds of datasets is an important competence in applied research in health care.

Effective Term: FALL 2024.

Implications for Other Programs: N/A.

Impact on Students Currently Enrolled: This will be an additional elective that students can choose from.

Form Version 2023

Faculty/School: Science

Department/Program(s): Master of Applied Health Services Research

MOTION: That a new course entitled “AHS 6099 Capstone Project” be approved as proposed.

Course Number and Title	AHS 6099 CAPSTONE PROJECT
Description	Students will undertake a supervised semester long project by developing and addressing a research question through a limited scoping review or analyses of available secondary data to produce a research report in an appropriate format. Prerequisites: Permission of instructor.
Cross-Listing	None
Prerequisite/Co-Requisite	AHS 6000 and 6004
Credit(s)	3
Notation

This is: An Elective Course.

Grade Mode: Numeric (Standard)

Anticipated Enrolment: 15

Is there an Enrolment Cap: No

If there is an enrolment limit, please explain.

Rationale for New Course: This course will provide an opportunity for students to take on an applied health services research project investigating a policy-related topic. Students in the MAHSR Professional program are required to take either AHS 6120 MAHSR Practicum or AHS 6099 Capstone Project. Those who choose AHS 6009 will, in conjunction with an appropriate faculty member, develop a research question and address this research question by: a) analyzing published material or b) using readily available secondary data sources (e.g. data housed in the University Research Data Centre). The course syllabi will be reviewed and approved by the MAHSR Management Committee.

Effective Term: FALL 2024.

Implications for Other Programs: N/A.

Impact on Students Currently Enrolled: This provides students with more flexibility: they can choose to complete a practicum (AHS 6120) or the capstone project (AHS 6009).

Resources Required: None- this will be part of the regular teaching load of a full-time faculty member in the MAHSR program.

In offering this course will UPEI require facilities or staff at other institutions: Yes

If yes, please explain.

MOTION: To approve the Course Title Change and Course Description Change of “AHS 6110 Directed Studies” as proposed.

Reproduction of Current Calendar Entry	Proposed revision with changes underlined and deletions indicated clearly
AHS 6110 DIRECTED STUDIES Students independently pursue an area of interest under the supervision of a faculty member. Topics must not be a part of the student’s thesis research although they may be in a complementary area. The purpose of this course is to focus on a timely and significant issue related to applied health services research, examining the issue and its implications from multiple perspectives, including research, policy, and key stakeholders. PREREQUISITE: Permission of instructor. HOURS OF CREDIT: 3

Rationale for Change: The MPHEC review of the MAHSR program identified the need for more electives for students. This course will provide an opportunity for students to study a timely topic in Applied Health Services Research in more depth. It also provides an additional elective for students. Since AHS 6110 Directed Studies has not been offered to any MAHSR students and there is a need to have consistent numbering across MAHSR programs at the four partner universities, we are proposing that AHS 6110 Directed Studies will be modified to AHS 6110 Special Topics.

Effective Term: FALL 2024

Implications for Other Programs: N/A.

Impact on Students Currently Enrolled: Students will no longer have the option of taking a Directed Studies course. However, no students have taken this course. They will now be able to take a Special Topics elective.

AHS 6120 RESIDENCY Students undertake a 240 hour research residency with a decision-making organization. PREREQUISITE: AHS 6000 and AHS 6004 HOURS OF CREDIT: 3 6
---	---

Rationale for Change: The MPHEC review of the MAHSR program recommended that credit hours for AHS 6120 Practicum be consistent across the four partnering universities offering the MAHSR program. A meeting with the MAHSR program leads and the Deans responsible for the MAHSR program at each university agreed that six credit hours was acceptable to all universities and reflected appropriately the amount of work involved in the practicum. The name of the course better reflects the content of the course and current terminology.

Effective Term: FALL 2024

Implications for Other Programs: N/A

Impact on Students Currently Enrolled: Courses are unchanged. Current students will graduate with a higher number of credits.

disadvantage in respect of continuity of registration.

Cancellation of Registration

A student who wishes to withdraw from the program is expected to consult with the Children’s Health Applied Research Team prior to completing the “withdrawal form” at the Office of the Registrar. In the event that a student fails to obtain satisfactory standings or to make satisfactory progress either in course work or in research, the Children’s Health Applied Research Team may require the student to withdraw. Registration will be cancelled as of a date set by the Children’s Health Applied Research Team, and an appropriate refund of fees made.

A student who withdraws from the University must return all outstanding loans from the Robertson Library prior to withdrawal, regardless of the due date. Any items not returned will be declared “lost,” and will be charged to the student’s account. This procedure is required practice even though in his or her new capacity as an outside borrower the ex-student may wish to borrow the same or other books.

3. SUPERVISION

Faculty Supervision

The student’s program is established and progress kept under review by the Children’s Health Applied Research Team. The day-to-day responsibility for overseeing the student’s program will rest with the student’s supervisor.

The student’s program is established and progress kept under review by the MAHSR Program Lead in consultation with the Science Graduate Studies Coordinator. ~~Children’s Health Applied Research Team.~~ The day-to-day responsibility for overseeing the student’s program will rest with the student’s supervisor.

After examining the student's academic record, due account being taken of all relevant courses passed at any recognized university or college, the Children's Health Applied Research Team will establish a program appropriate for the degree. The program will include prescribed studies on the basis of which the candidate's final standing will be determined, and it may include additional courses either chosen by the student or specified by the Children's Health Applied Research Team.

Program

Once the program of courses is established, changes may be made subject to the approval of the Children's Health Applied Research Team.

In the first semester, students gain a broad range of applied health services research through course work in the Canadian Health System; Ethical Foundations of Applied Health Research; and an introductory course in Research and Evaluation Design and Methods. The second semester focuses on health care research through course work in Qualitative and Quantitative research methods, Health Policy, and the Determinants of Health.

Between the second and third semesters, students undertake a four-month research residency with a decision-making organization. The residency is designed to provide hands-on research and decision-making experience; to develop an understanding of how knowledge is transferred between the academic community and decision-makers; and to discover whether projects undertaken are of sufficient interest to the student and the host organization to merit further investigation as a thesis research topic.

In the fourth semester, students learn about knowledge transfer and research uptake and continue to develop research skills by specializing in either qualitative or quantitative research approaches. Preparation of a research proposal leading to the commencement of the thesis is a main course requirement of these advanced methods courses.

In the fifth and sixth semesters, students continue to work on their thesis, culminating in an academic defence. Students are also required to make a public presentation of their thesis research targeted to decision-makers.

Workshops

Twice a year, normally at the end of the Fall and Winter terms, students and Faculty will join with health services decision-makers for week-long thematic Workshops. These thematic workshops are designed to facilitate learning in a collegial environment that explores the transfer of knowledge between researchers and institutional health policy and decision-making.

Review of Progress

At the end of each semester, the academic record and progress of each student will be reviewed by the Children’s Health Applied Research Team.

4. GRADES SCHEDULE

INC: A student who fails to complete all components of a course, such as assignments, examinations and fieldwork, due to circumstances beyond his/her control (such as illness), may, with the permission of the professor and the Dean, be granted an amount of time deemed reasonable for the completion of said components.

4.3. GRADES SCHEDULE

The minimum passing grade for courses in the MAHSR program is 70%.

~~INC: A student who fails to complete all components of a course, such as assignments, examinations and fieldwork, due to circumstances~~

If a student does not complete all the components of a course by the agreed-upon date, normally a grade of "F" shall replace "INC" on the transcript. The Registrar will advise the Department Chair that the grade of "F" requires a percentage grade for posting on the student transcript. In cases where the component left incomplete was not a requirement for passing the course and where the student already has earned a passing grade without completing the component, the passing grade shall be submitted and shall replace INC on the transcript.

AUD: an "audited" course (additional courses only)

DISC: discontinued with permission

Seminar courses are graded as letter grades. In the thesis the work is reported as either satisfactory or unsatisfactory.

5. THE THESIS

Thesis and Dissertation requirements are outlined in Graduate Regulation #16.

Research

Normally, the equivalent of 12 months of continuous study must be devoted to research in fulfilment of the thesis requirement. In order to complete the degree within a reasonable time frame, the research topic should be identified early in the student's program and approved by the Graduate Studies Committee. Research involving human subjects must be approved by the University's Research Ethics Committee.

Retention/Maintenance of Records

In the interest of good scholarly practice and in order to substantiate claims of intellectual property, graduate students should keep complete, dated records of their research. These records may be in the form of bound notebooks, log books, or other documentation, as appropriate to the discipline. Students should

They must also realize that raw data and other research results should remain accessible at all times to all other members of any collaborative research activity.

Unacceptable Thesis

If a candidate is unable to prepare an acceptable thesis, the Supervisory Committee will so report to the Graduate Studies Committee and to the Children's Health Applied Research Team (sending to the student a copy of the report).

Transcripts of Records

Official transcripts of the student's academic record are available through the Registrar's Office. Transcripts will be sent to other universities, to prospective employers, or to others outside the University only upon formal request by the student.

Rationale for Change: The proposed changes include a new professional, course based stream for the MAHSR program as well as updated language reflecting current practice.

The Glossary of Terms, as proposed to be revised, is applicable to both the continuing Thesis Stream and new Professional Stream, and as such has been moved earlier within the entry to reflect this. The revised location places this information applicable to both Streams prior to content that diverges to be applicable to only one Stream or the other.

Application forms for admission can be completed on line for the Office of the Registrar at <http://www.upei.ca/discovermore/apply> with the appropriate fee and supporting documentation.

TRANSCRIPTS

Official transcripts of the applicant's complete undergraduate and graduate (if any) record to date are to be sent to the Office of the Registrar. Applicants from outside North America are strongly urged to attach official statements of the grades obtained and the subject matter included.

CONFIRMED SUPERVISOR

A confirmed supervisor must be established before completing an application to this program.

REFERENCE LETTERS

Letters of reference from two professors familiar with the applicant's work are to be sent by the professors directly to the Office of the Registrar and can be uploaded to the applicant's file. An acceptable alternative to one such letter is a letter from a Chair or Dean on behalf of the Department or Faculty in which the applicant has studied, or from the employer where the applicant has recently been employed.

ENGLISH PROFICIENCY

Students are expected to be proficient in the use of English, both written and oral, when they begin their studies at the University of Prince Edward Island. The University requires that certification of such proficiency be presented by applicants whose first language is not English or whose normal language of instruction throughout their education (as recognized by UPEI) was not English. Tests of proficiency acceptable to the University, and the minimum scores that must be obtained, are listed under the Admission
